

Testimonial

Wednesday, 15 February 2012

David Haynes

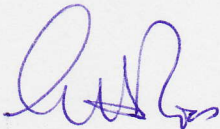

Recently I was suffering from a pain in my back. This had resulted from simply trying to put on a sock. At times I found it difficult to move at all. I put up with this for two or three days but clearly it was not going to improve without some skilled help.

I called David who much to my relief, agreed to see me in a very short time.

David carried out a thorough examination of the area and was very soon able to find the source of the problem. With some deep manipulation of a muscle, the pain was significantly reduced and although still hurting to some degree I was able to walk to my car and sit down without the shooting pains.

When I woke to following morning and got out of bed I was pain free. What a relief!!

David clearly had found the site of pain and provided the right treatment. I would certainly recommend him to anyone suffering a similar dilemma.

Alan Ross
Grey Workforce Limited